

ASHTON BENTLEY CHALLENGE

Do your job and win a Nintendo Wii U or iPad Mini !

The Ashton Bentley challenge is an opportunity to get hands-on and see just how quick and easy our systems are to assemble. The Challenge will be against the clock, pitting two teams of two against each other in a race to see who can build one of our systems the quickest.

Daily prizes of a Nintendo Wii U will be awarded to the quickest team, and an Apple iPad mini will be awarded to the overall show winners.

The challenge is taking place daily at Europe's largest professional Audio Visual show, Integrated Systems Europe 2013 in Amsterdam on January 29/30/31.

As one of the unique features of Ashton Bentley systems is that they can be assembled with no tools, skills or experience in minutes, participants don't need to bring anything other than their desire to be the best!

A limited number of entries are available, with registration via the Ashton Bentley Website www.ashtonbentley.com/ISEChallenge

Several entries will be reserved each day for onsite registration, prior to 10:00am each day.

ISE2013 will be the World launch of Ashton Bentley. See us in Hall 7, Booth W204.

Integrated Systems
Europe

Ashton Bentley design and manufacture a range of Presentation and Video Conference (just add Codec) environments that simplify all aspects of deployment, operation, support and management. Fully integrated solutions out of a box, assembled in minutes with no tools.

Saving you Time, Saving you Money and Making things Simple.

Ashton Bentley™ products are designed and manufactured in the United Kingdom.