PFM attended an evening Press event held by Saville Audio Visual who were holding a series of end-user days to demonstrate the Ashton Bentley revolutionary range of complete 'environments' for Video Conferencing and Presentations.

The focus of Ashton Bentley designs is to produce complete Audio Visual systems that are supplied boxed and ready to set up and use within minutes with no tools required! All cables, connectors, control and PC inputs are included making purchasing, set-up and operation extremely straightforward. This will answer many of the frustrations and problems that Facilities experience in many corporate buildings. Ashton Bentley removes the requirement for building work and other trades.

Ashton Bentley displayed the following products:

- Connect 1 – a single 55" Screen system
- Connect 2 - a twin 55" Screen system
- Media Connect - a single 55" Screen system with attached ergonomic meeting table
- Solo 46 - a single 46" screen system for smaller meeting rooms and executive offices

All had the tabletop interface-s unit that connects with a single cable to the main chassis and provides microphone, intuitive system control and two PC inputs.

If used for Videoconferencing/Telepresence then just specify your Codec/Camera and the unit will be supplied with the correct wiring harness and brackets, and basic control and remote IP Diagnostics set up ready to us

Ashton Bentley design and manufacture a range of Video Conference, Telepresence and Presentation environments (just add Codec) that simplify all aspects of deployment, operation, support and management. Fully integrated solutions out of a box, assembled in minutes with no tools. Saving you time. Saving you money. Making things simple.
